

Technical Sales Engineer – Chicago, USA

About Ventec International Group

Ventec International Group is a leading publicly listed global manufacturer of base materials & products for the PCB-Industry. The company's recent Taiwanese Stock Market listing, significant rise in demand, increasing market share and growing world-wide operations have meant that we are continuously looking for new talent to join our team.

Job Description

Want to advance your career by joining our globally successful and growing world class CCL manufacturing company and help drive that success? Based in the Chicago area, your focus will be on Ventec's core market segments: Mil/Aero, Automotive & Medical, offering a full range of high reliability materials including polyimide, IMS and thermal management products.

The Successful Applicant

Non-negotiable:

- DRIVE & TENACITY!

Required:

- 7 to 10 years' experience in the PCB industry in engineering and/or manufacturing
- Detail oriented approach to tasks
- Ability to manage tasks and set goals independently as well as part of a team
- Knowledge of MS office products

Full product training will be provided.

What's on Offer

- Salary - £ competitive and commensurate with experience

This is a fantastic opportunity to become part of a successful brand and leading team with excellent benefits.

Please forward your resume to jpattie@ventec-usa.com and mention "Technical Sales Engineer - Chicago" in the subject line.

(added: 11/01/2018)